NATIONAL EXHIBITION & COMPETITION
March 22 - April 14
Chesebrough-Pond's Gallery

Photo Biennial '96 marks the third time the Westport Arts Center has presented a national photography exhibition. As in the past, the long months of organizing have paid off in a marvelous show of work from all corners of America expressing a multitude of talent, vision and dedication to photography. It is in recognition of that passion for the art of photography that the Westport Arts Center has committed itself to become the proud sponsor and home to a national photography exhibit and competition. Photo Biennial '96 received entries from 200 photographers nationwide who submitted a total of nearly 1,600 images on 35mm slide. From these, jurors Philip Trager and John Wawrzonek selected 102 photographs representing 81 photographers. Once the show was received and installed, the jurors returned to select awards by viewing the actual work.
